| What is the definition of disability?        | You are disabled when we determine that:
• You are unable to perform the material and substantial duties of your regular occupation due solely to your illness or injury
• You have a 20% or more loss in your covered monthly earnings due to that same illness or injury
• You are under the regular care of a physician; and After monthly payments have been payable for 24 months, you are still considered disabled when we determine that due to the same illness or injury:
• You are unable to perform the duties of any gainful occupation for which you are reasonably fitted by education, training or experience. |
| Are there any exclusions or limitations?      | Disability plans have conditions, exclusions, offsets, and limitations. You must be actively-at-work for at least one day for your coverage to begin. Here is some important information but review your plan documents for a complete listing of all that apply. Your plan does not cover any disabilities caused by, contributed to by, or resulting directly or indirectly from:
• an on-the-job injury or illness for which workers’ compensation benefits are paid, or may be paid if duly claimed
• a pre-existing condition
• intentionally self-inflicted injuries or attempted suicide
• active participation in a riot or an act of insurrection, rebellion or civil commotion
• war, declared or undeclared, or any act of war
• the revocation, restriction or non-renewal of your license, permit or certification necessary to perform the duties of your occupation unless due solely to injury or illness otherwise covered by the Policy
• participation in an illegal activity or illegal act or to which a contributing cause was your being engaged in an illegal occupation
• commission of a crime for which you have been convicted, this includes but is not limited to local, state, country, provincial or federal law, or the disability results from commission of, or attempting to commit a criminal act
• intoxication, including driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. (“intoxicated” means your blood alcohol or drug level meets or exceeds the level at which intoxication would be presumed under the law of the state, country, or jurisdiction in which the event, activity or accident occurred; or
• influence of a controlled substance, unless administered by a physician, or taken according to a physician’s instructions, and within clinical guidelines. |
